

SUMMARY

The Unit Price of each product plays a significant role while creating a model. Whereas category doesn't play such an important role

We need more data of Temperature to make the model more accurate as it is also significant in creating the model